*The name of Jesus is the glory of preachers,
 because the shining splendour of that name causes God's word to be proclaimed and heard.*

GOSPEL REFLECTION

"Because most of us are baptised as babies, we often miss the significance of our baptism. It is a joyful occasion where families gather to celebrate and name the baby - to recognise it as a new and unique individual.

"Every culture on earth recognises the importance of such a moment in the life of a child. However, as Christians, we add a new dimension. The name identifies the individuality of the child - but the sacrament initiates the child into the life of a series of communities. The first and, at this stage, most significant, is the child's family. The parish welcomes the new member of their worshipping community - and the wider Church receives the new Christian into a world-wide family. But even beyond that, baptism initiates the person into the very life of God: he or she becomes a disciple and friend of Jesus - a child of God - and a temple of the Holy Spirit.

"Rather like the disciples encountering Jesus, we have to look at our own baptism and that of others differently. Yes, we remain fully human - but through baptism, we carry the seeds of a new divine life which will find its fulfilment after death when we enter eternity. It is a gift which gives life a new purpose: where we are God is and in the graces of our baptism, we have been commissioned to sanctify the world - at least our own little bit of it!"

CONFERENCE FOR YOUNG ADULTS—JULY 11, 2015

Spirit in the City Conference 2015, to be held on Saturday 11 July 2015 at Gardens Point, Brisbane is being organised by QUT Chaplaincy concerning the challenges of understanding and applying the Catholic and Christian faith in the highly secularized cultural, political and other influential settings of contemporary Australian society.

Key Speakers include Archbishop Mark Coleridge, Fr Richard Leonard sj, Stephen Barr from New York via Skype, Scott Stephens from ABC's Radio National, and Matthew Tan from Campion College, Sydney.

There will be a panel of speakers to talk about the media which includes well known journalist, Tess Livingstone. The conference will address key areas of faith including scripture, theology, and church teaching and explores how faith and action play out through media, politics, culture and art, science and technology, and other areas of public interest. These have multiple, competing perspectives, and increasingly, a "dictatorship of relativism" as coined by Pope Benedict XVI, confounding the right ways for Catholics to understand, judge and act.

The Conference will conclude with sacred music at Stephens Cathedral to be followed by Mass. For more information and bookings go to www.spiritinthecity.net or ring Fr Bavin Clarke 07 3138 2700 or

Deacon Russ Nelson 0427 743 534."
