GOSPEL REFLECTION

The missionary effort began with the initiative of Jesus. He gathered the Twelve together so he could send them out with spiritual power. In one respect, the journey of the Twelve extended the messianic mission of Jesus. In another respect, the journey change the Twelve into Apostles (the root word for apostle literally means "to send out.") The ministry of the Twelve began with the call of Christ. With the call came limits, in the form of travel instructions. As indicated in the translation notes above, these instructions did not reflect anything unusual in the contemporary culture. Traveling away from home (i.e., extended family) was unexpected. (After all, the family supplied all economic and social support anyone would need.) But that did not stop people from taking to the road. Travel had its dangers. Provisions were scarce. And the activities of marauding bandits made travel perilous. So, Jesus instructed the Twelve to travel in pairs for safety, and to travel light for endurance (the lighter one travelled, the faster he or she could go). Since many people travelled in large caravans, the missionaries could join these groups and share their provisions. As the notes indicated above, hospitality was a common, honourable virtue that acted as a counter weight to the dangers of travel. Travelers were safe in numbers and safe with a caring host. From a thematic viewpoint, the travel limits Jesus imposed kept the missionaries focus on serving others, not the self. In serving others, the missionary would depend on the goodwill of others and, ultimately, on the benevolence of God. So, the missionary was to travel in the spirit of dependence. Christ had called him or her, and continued the call. The initiative was Christ's and continued to be his.

From a reflection on the Gospel by Larry Broding

Gathering Hymn	GA497 God Has Chosen Me
Psalm Response	Lord, show us your mercy and love, and grant us your salvation.
Recessional Hymn	GA435 A New Heart for a New World

The name of Jesus is the glory of preachers, because the shining splendour of that name causes God's word to be proclaimed and heard.

Fulfilling International Mission for Skilled

Volunteers

Communities in East Timor, PNG, Kenya, Kiribati, Samoa and elsewhere are asking for teachers, health and community development workers, administrators, agricultural workers and others. You can assist to mentor local workers in your field of expertise. This will provide opportunities for those who have not had the advantage of an Australian education; improve the operations of organisations in vital sectors of local communities and so assist poverty reduction. For 55 years Palms Australia has assisted such communities to recruit, prepare and support Australian Catholics who volunteer to share their lives and skills. We have increasing numbers of requests from communities who believe this approach, more than anything else, assists their self-reliance and sustainable development.
