*The name of Jesus is the glory of preachers,
 because the shining splendour of that name causes God's word to be proclaimed and heard.*

GOSPEL REFLECTION

Our Easter celebration has once again come and gone. Participation in the liturgy has probably been a deeply moving and inspiring experience for many. But now life goes on as before, in a world that does not seem to have been changed. The words of the Preface, 'The joy of the resurrection renews the whole world', don't seem to ring true. As this mood overtakes us, let us recall that the apostles themselves did not find it easy to come to terms with what the Saviour's victory over death meant for them. They had looked forward to sharing with Jesus in his messianic triumph, but now their world seemed to go on as before. It is remarkable that all four gospels tell of the 'doubts' and 'hesitations' of the apostles as they came to faith in the Lord's Resurrection. In today's gospel reading from John these doubts are expressed by Thomas – the stolid realist who objected at the Supper, 'We don't know where you are going; how can we know the way'. Perhaps we shall find the way forward in the faith journey of this Easter season if we reflect upon Jesus' greeting of 'Peace', used twice when he came among the disciples on the evening of his resurrection day, and repeated when he returned to confirm the faith of doubting Thomas. As we look out on today's world, thoughts of the 'peace' the world yearns for are often in our minds. Many times we have been told that we can only be peacemakers if we are at peace in ourselves; and we know from the times we have experienced true peace, that peace is more than the absence of conflict – it is a positive coming together of all that matters in our lives.

April 3, 2016 2nd Sunday of Easter

"Jesus said to them again, 'Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you.'"

JOHN 20:21

Peace – the first gift of the risen Lord. Just as Jesus sent the apostles out into the world to share His peace and Good News, so too, He sends us. As disciples of Jesus, we are called to be grateful and generous. We should look for opportunities to share His peace with our brothers and sisters not only within our local parish boundaries, but outside of them as well. In giving, you will receive the peace of Christ.
